INTERESTING EXPEDITION TO LACHINE

Mechanical Club Visits Dominion Engineering Works

CORDIAL RECEPTION

Many Intricate Machines Seen
by McGill Students

The visit to the Dominion Engineering Works yesterday afternoon was a great success, the attendance was good, the weather was perfect for the long car-ride to Lachine, and most important of all, the Works were in full swing.

Mr. C. U. Vesnot and the party of Mechanical Club members left the Union at 2.00 sharp and took a car to Lachine, arriving at 1st Avenue before 3 o'clock. A short walk brought the party to the Works where after a momentary halt at the machine shop accompanied by Mr. H. G. Macdonald, one of the Science men who left college for Overseas Service and then came back to graduate from Old McGill with the Class of Civils '20 Mr. Macdonald is now with the Dominion Engineering works as an Assistant Construction Engineer.

After passing the Tool Room the first object of interest was the first object of interest was a 36" Suction Roll, a cast cylindrical shell of brass 19 feet long and about 3-4" in thickness, beautifully machined, having about 175,000 holes 5-16" in diameter drilled and countersunk over its entire surface.

The next point of interest was the machining of 20 ft. Felt Rolls, some-where between 40 and 50 of them will be needed for the 230" Paper Machine being built for the Belgo-Canadian Paper Company. The end caps and journal pins for these rolls are machined separately and pressed on in a hydraulic press.

Not far off a machine was cutting the teeth on some large gear wheels for paper machine drives. These gear-wheels were 5 feet in diameter 7" wide. They are cast with a solid rim but the centre is split to facilitate the placing of them on their shafts, the hub being held together by four bolts. Nearby, parts of Rise Valves and Ball Races or the L. P. Morris type of Governor were being made.

Quite a large portion of this section of the Machine Shop was taken up with work on Guide Vanes and Ac-

ATHLETIC CLUB MANAGERS MET

Schedules, Administration, and Expenditure on Trips
Discussed

At a meeting of the managers of the athletic club called in the Union yesterday afternoon by Major Forbes the subject of administration of all athletics through one office, rotating schedules and petty expenditures on trips were discussed.

Major Forbes made a number of suggestions to enable the Athletic Board and the Athletic Clubs to work together the most important of which was that all correspondence with outside clubs and the ordering of all equipment be handled through the office of the Board. He then turned to the subject of economy. Major Forbes urged that on all trips managers exercise a reasonable amount of economy in handling the cash allotted them for the petty expenses of their trips. At this point the meeting resolved itself into a lively discussion as to whether or not a limit should be placed on expenditures for meals, tips, etc. Wiggins was greatly opposed to restriction holding that after a strenuous game a player felt like "letting go" and that the very idea of restriction was distasteful to him. The consensus of opinion was however that restriction was necessary and after a little discussion figures were set which were generally deemed quite adequate. Major Forbes in reply to the discussion pointed out that economy in reason would react as a benefit rather than be a hindrance to the clubs. There is a set sum to be spent on athletes and any saving on equipment will simply make more trips and games possible.

Before the close of the meeting Forbes asked all managers to draw up a schedule for his club with a view to arranging, at a meeting to be held Tuesday, permanent rotating schedules that do not conflict.

PHILOSOPHERS TO MEET ON MONDAY

Dr. Caldwell Will Speak on His Recent Travels

On Monday next the Philosophical Society will hold its first meeting in the main hall of Strathcona Hall at eight o'clock when Dr. Caldwell will deliver an address on "Philosophy, Europe and our Canadian Life".

In this address Dr. Caldwell will address the Society, more or less informally, upon some of the experiences and findings of his year's travel regarding cultural, national, and international conditions, in Britain, and on the Continent of Europe. He has at heart the matter of the intimate relation that exists between the University student as a student, and his work as a citizen. There is a real unity here, and it is in the interest of Philosophy as well as in the interest of citizenship that this unity be made clear. Students taking this word in a broad sense, have in the past most contributed to the ranks of the great citizen of History. They were separate to some extent in the old "Culture", but the Canadian of today can no longer go on without a more or less practical and defensible theory of his citizenship in Canada, in the Empire, and one might even say, in the world. A true and dynamical Philosophy of life and civilization was never more needed than at the present time. In his address Dr. Caldwell will have in mind the place of philosophy in the life of peoples, and in the curriculum of modern University such as McGill.

This is the first time that the student body has had an opportunity to hear Dr. Caldwell since his return, and what he has to say about his experience in Europe should attract a good attendance next Monday night.

A Scotchman came up to a man who was very much bandaged up and could scarcely walk.

"Mon, mon," said the Scotchman. "Aye knew by your look ye're just over from the auld land."

"Faith I'm not," was the reply. "It is because I've had rheumatism for the last ten years that I look so miserable."

There are seven ages of man, but only one for woman—marriage; in fact the marriageable age for woman is anywhere between the seminary and the cemetery.

Every man has his price, but how many are worth it?

LOWER TOTAL IN UNIVERSITY REGISTRATION

Returns Complete Except in School of Graduate Study

MANY INSTRUCTORS

Over Four Hundred Direct
Mental Efforts of Students

On enquiring at the Registrar's office yesterday afternoon, the "Daily" was able to ascertain what are practically the final registration figures for the session 1923-24. For the sake of comparison, the figures for last year are also published. It is seen that the total registration at the university is somewhat less than last year; this is principally due to the large graduating class this spring, which was composed, to a large extent, of returned men.

The detailed figures are as follows:

Faculty	1922-23	1923-24
Arts	657	766
Medicine	718	657
Science	585	463
Commerce	195	200
Dentistry	131	134
Law	74	84
M. S. P. E.	45	60
Pharmacy	42	52
Graduate Nurses	37	39
School for Social Wkrs.	22	26
School of Grad. Studies	93	100
Total	2519	2555

These figures are final except in the case of the School of Graduate Studies, which will not be available in their entirety until the beginning of next week. Up to to-day the following had registered for the various courses offered by the school:

Course leading to degree of Master of Arts	16
Course leading to degree of Master of Science	41
Course leading to degree of Master of Science in Agriculture	7
Course leading to degree of Doctor of Philosophy	17
Total	91

Besides these, there are a number who are spreading their courses over two years; it is expected that there will be about twenty-five in this category, so that the total for the School will be well over 100.

The reasons for the increases in (Continued on Page 4)

C.O.T.C. INFORMAL PLANS COMPLETE

First Military Dance of Season in November

Drill is not the only thing taught in the McGill C.O.T.C. The gentlemen-cadets are training seriously for the first social event of their season, the Military Informal dance. This is held in the Union on November 9. The patrons and patronesses, as far as it was possible to learn last night, will be Sir Arthur and Lady Currie, Col. and Mrs. Bovey, Col. and Mrs. Thompson, and Miss Hurlbutt.

Although this is the first time the C.O.T.C. has ventured into the social life of the College en masse, the cadets are confident that the dance will be the success of the year. The music will be provided by the McGill Dance Orchestra. Every possible attention will be paid to those at the dance by the Union House and C.O.T.C. Committees.

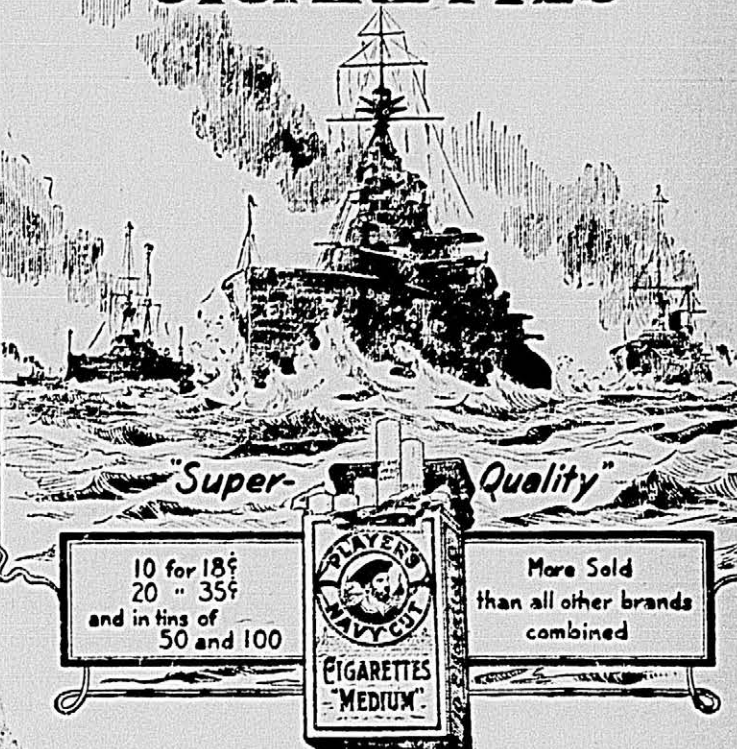

Until Monday night, tickets will be available to members of the C.O.T.C. only. A certain number will be on sale to ex-members of the Corps and to Undergraduates who served overseas or who are now members of the Militia. In the remote possibility of any tickets being left after Monday, the remaining undergraduates will be allowed to purchase them. There are only 130 precious bits of paper on sale at the Orderly Room, and every lover of jazz will be on hand at the earliest possible moment to get one.

Freshman—Can you give me a definition of "Co-ed?"

Professor—Well, it's this way. Co comes from the word "coo" meaning a young lady's charming of men, and ed is short for the word "edible"; therefore "Co-ed" is one who charms students into carrying her out for dinner.

Optimist—A man who goes with a cork-screw in his pocket.

MONTREAL, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1923.

CRABBED AGE AND YOUTH

It is strange with what shame-faced respect Youth has always listened to the wise saws and careful admonitions of its elders. Constantly being directed along the thorny pathway to Success with scrupulous advice recommending caution and thrift and a sort of dull and dogged determination, the youngsters have listened wide-eyed and attentive, and made a brief of it in their notebooks. Then, carefully blotting the page, they closed the book and put it away on the dusty shelf, and went out to play on the windy hill or down to the bright lights of the town.

That this should be so has always been particularly irritating to the elderly critics. They have pulled long faces and raised protesting hands. They have written letters to the papers about the goings-on of the younger generation, and wonder dismally what the world is coming to. And all the while they hear under their window the merry noise of girls and boys out in the world laughing and working and playing, and trying and failing, and trying again—gaining always experience, and rioting happily in the most profane contempt of the cold creed of safety and sanity.

In accordance with this creed as Stevenson always expressed it, "every lad who goes to sea is an egregious ass; never to forget your umbrella during a long life would seem a higher and wiser flight of achievement than to go smiling to the stake; and so long as you are a bit of a coward and inflexible in money matters, you fulfill the whole duty of man."

It seems to us that if the older generation is to be of any real help to its sons and daughters it must abandon this attitude altogether. Youth is generous and daring, and incurably romantic. Its quixotic impulses cannot be stifled by advice. Experience cannot be taught; Youth must be allowed to try all things and if left to the promptings of its own nature it will hold fast to that which is good. When our fathers and professors urge us not to be careful, but quixotic; not close but generous; not students of books, but students of life; not single-minded plodders on the Straight-and-Narrow, but myriad-minded wanderers of the windy heath—then, and only then, will time restore the golden age, and Youth follow the advice of those who are older and wiser.

ELECTRICALS PLAN TRIP TO OTTAWA

Monthly Excursion to be Held This Year

The McGill Electric Club, last night, outlined its programme for the remainder of the college year.

At five o'clock a fair percentage of the membership from both the third and fourth years assembled in room 53, Science Building, and after the reading of the minutes of the recent meeting addressed by Mr. Mills, got right down to business, making plans to get the most out of the year.

The first matter of interest was "inspection trips" and the club was very pleased to hear that Prof. Herd had asked to be notified of any trips in the city so that he would be enabled to arrange with the tramways for a private car for the club. Trips are to be taken perhaps once a month and a trip to Ottawa is likely to be included in the programme as there is a most interesting industrial district there.

The matter of papers by the students received much attention. It was decided that here was the greatest opening for the society to aid its members, both those who are to read papers and those who listen and afterwards get into the discussion. This is one of the things that the present day engineer runs into very much and it is a place where so many feel the handicap of lack of experience.

Noon lunches are to be held after Christmas if anything like the interest hoped for, is shown in the club this term. Unfortunately, it has been found necessary to collect a fee of one dollar from the members, to defray the annual and incidental expenses of the club.

The present plan is to have a paper presented by one of the club members next Friday night, so all the Electricals should be on hand at 5 o'clock that night and make it a lively discussion.

Those unable to appear at 5 o'clock should come at 4.00 p.m. It is essential, however, that all men interested in basketball turn out.

PACIFIC COLLEGES

University of California, Berkeley Cal. OCTOBER 25, 1923

Two of the records on California's fast cinder track, were broken Tuesday at the Interfraternity track meet. This was particularly interesting, for any regular track men taking part in the contest was not allowed to participate in his own event.

Philip Barber a sophomore, broke the 300-yard dash record in 33 seconds flat. The old record was 33 and 2-5 seconds. The three-lap (three-fourths of a mile) event record was broken by L. H. Schwoboda, a freshman who did it in three minutes 29 and 3-5 seconds. The old time was three minutes and 30 seconds, thus the cut in time was nearly 10 seconds.

Inter-faculty and inter-club contests in track and baseball have been known and recognized for a long time at the University of California, but a new departure in this line has been made with the innovation of inter-college baseball. Previously the different colleges were never seriously competitive, but now the separate colleges will meet each other in combat.

Soon the College of Letters and Science will pair off with that of Law and the College of Commerce will meet the Medical College, and so on down the lists.

Due to the constant increase in mechanical and chemical facilities on the Pacific coast, the War Department has decided to organize an ordinance unit and has assigned Major R. W. Finger to the R. O. T. C. at the University of California, to organize such a unit.

"Men with engineering knowledge are greatly needed in the army," said Major Finger, "and with the establishment of this department here it will give third and fourth year men an opportunity to participate in a little of the practical side of military life."

IS PETTY THEIVING AGAIN PREVALENT?

About three years ago, undergraduates were victims of an epidemic of petty thieving instituted by a man not in the University. Several overcoats were stolen from the Physics Building and the Library, and great inconvenience resulted.

This year, there have been several cases of overcoats going astray in the Arts Building. Only last night, the "Daily" heard of the loss of a coat left on a hook in the Building. Yesterday afternoon the owner looked for it after an hour's absence and found it had disappeared with his gloves and notes, though his hat remained. Of course a mistake may have been made, the "Daily" sincerely hopes so, and the coat and notes may yet reach the cold and anxious student. Possibly this case has been due to an error, but within the past ten days there have been rumours of a similar situation which developed in to certain loss. Undergraduates are advised to use all possible caution at this time.

ROOTERS' BAND FOR TIGER MCGILL GAME

J. J. Gagnier Will Again Head Rod and White Musicians

The McGill Rooters' Band has been asked to support the college team and Rooters for the Hamilton Tiger-McGill game at the Stadium on Saturday afternoon. A practice has been called for Friday afternoon at five o'clock in the Assembly Hall of the Strathcona Hall.

Bandmaster J. J. Gagnier who met with an accident a short while ago is rapidly recovering, will make a special effort to be at the practice and will conduct the Band on Saturday.

The following men are urged to be present. J. Allan, B. M. Bloomfield, E. M. Casey, K. C. Crawford, R. Eager, A. Farrell, A. F. Fowler, T. H. Gale, G. A. Good, J. E. Hinchliff, "Doc" Henderson, Hardy, E. B. Lushy, F. D. Mooney, J. Persk, F. T. Reilly, N. D. Reader, A. M. Robillard, Roseborough, R. C. Thompson, R. M. Sampson, B. T. Smith, Fred Smith, R. C. Silver, W. J. Watson, H. A. Wearnes.

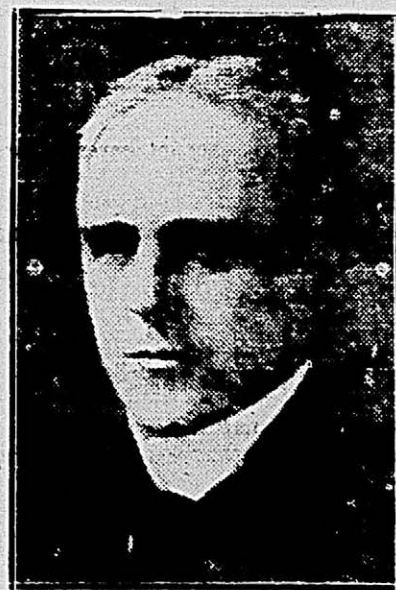

EGG RIOT

If you do not favor the fruit of the bon, seek not the first American institution of higher learning. The Harvard Crimson reports the uprising as follows:

"An egg rebellion was broken out in Smith Hall. After two long weeks of breakfast at which boiled eggs on the breakfast at which boiled eggs have alternated with boiled eggs on the daily menu, the Freshmen in that dormitory have risen in wrath. During luncheon yesterday some doughty leader of the crusade tackled on the bulletin board at the door of the dining hall a piece of theme paper with the following legend. 'We, the undersigned, desire some other main dish for breakfast than eggs.'"

Before the end of lunch 75 indignant signatures had appeared. Another sheet of theme paper was added, and twenty more signatures went in during the afternoon. Then two more men signed their names and all

WATER POLO WON BY RED AND WHITE

Seniors Take First Game
From M.A.A.A. Swimmers

SCORE 6-1

Vernot and Jim Ross Showed
Old Time Form in Aquatic Contest

Last night in the M. A. A. A. swimming tank the McGill senior poloists defeated the M. A. A. A. Reds. The game was a one-sided affair, McGill winning 6-1. The M. A. A. A. players were outclassed and seemed to realize it. They were hesitant and frequently missed their passes and shots.

McGill started defending the deep end. But in spite of this disadvantage Vernot opened the scoring after the first few minutes of play. Once shown the way the McGill team again found the nets this time through Jim Ross. The M. A. A. A. men did not come very near to Gardine who was in the McGill goal, and even when they did, their shooting was erratic and missed its mark. Vernot and Ross kept the M. A. A. A. goal tender anxious and busy with their speedy shots which they showered upon him from all angles. The five and red team seemed to be incapable of maintaining the pace set by the Red-White forwards and were puzzled by their tricks.

Vernot scored in the first minute of the second period. He beat Dey with a close hard shot which he made after carrying the ball down himself, and the way he wrestled the ball away from his opponents was a treat. Vernot seemed to be everywhere. Excitement ran high. Here the only penalties of the evening were given out, one to Ritchie, the other to Kyle. With but five men to a side the play was not as fast and half-time came with the score 3-0 for McGill.

In the second half, M. A. A. A. played good polo. They showed team work and finally passed the ball down in front of the McGill goal where Ritchie got hold of it and drove it past Gardine. But Ross retaliated with a brilliant rush closing in upon Dey and then passing him. The play saw-sawed back and forth both goal-keepers receiving many shots. But the team work began to deteriorate, both sides making long shots which seldom found their mark and which were easily stopped when they did. In the last period McGill swept their opponents off their feet. Vernot scored one minute after play had commenced. He went down again a minute later. He shot and the ball bounding back from the goal post was caught by Ross who threw it in. Here M. A. A. A. gave up hope and were content to try to stop McGill from doing any further scoring before the time was called.

Vernot and Ross were easily the best men in the tank and it was mainly due to their playing either singly or together that McGill won by such a large margin. Vernot's checking was efficient and his passing and shooting were fast and accurate. Ross was fast and his shots generally struck home. Ritchie played a good game for M. A. A. A.

The line-up was as follows:
McGill M. A. A. A.
Jardine Dey
Conson Earl
Forsyth Venning
Ross Bruker
Vernot Ritchie
Kyle Black

The scoring was:
1st Period
McGill Vernot 3-0
McGill Ross 1-46
2nd Period
McGill Vernot 37
3rd Period
M. A. A. A. Ritchie 1-00
McGill Ross 1-44
4th Period

McGill Ross 1-40
Final score: McGill 6; M. A. A. A. 1.

A Lament.

I used to call on Sally May
Most every single night.
And hold her hand and whisper love
Beneath the pale moon light.
But that was many weeks ago;
Up north in a town half dead.
Down here whenever I want a date
I call up weeks ahead!

One prof. out of every 13 has a car.
The rest are held up by the traffic cop to watch them go by.

She—How dare you? Papa said he would kill the first man that kissed me.

He—How interesting. And did he?

After watching one of those cane-wearing law renors put in an hour before the mirror this morning I felt glad that we did not take advice of our elders to study law.

LAW TWELVE WHITEWASHED COMMERCIALS

Loose Game Played on Slippery Field

SCORE 20-0

Contest Drew Large Gallery of Students

Law added another victory to their list of football achievements when they whitewashed Commerce twenty to nothing in a scheduled game of the Inter-Faculty Football League. The game was played on the campus yesterday afternoon, with the kick-off taking place at two o'clock. The teams met on a slippery field, which had been prevented from drying by the sudden freeze-up of the night before. Perfect football weather prevailed, and there was a tang in the air which made one think of the colder days to come. Law won the toss and elected to play with the wind.

Commerce then kicked off. Pierce, of Law, caught the ball and returned the kick. Lehan, who was most anxious, fumbled the catch giving Law the ball on the Commerce forty yard line. From there Law soon worked the ball toward the Commerce touch-line only to lose it on an on-side kick. But they obtained the advantage again and made a touch-down after working the ball from centre to touch-line in three plays. Pierce failed to convert the touch. Score 5-0. There was no more scoring until the second quarter. Then Law, through the plunging of Abinovitch and ball-carrying of Pierce, managed to push over for a second try. The Commerce line tightened from this point on and they held Law until the end of the half.

Half-time Score, Law 10, Commerce 0.

The third quarter saw Commerce forcing the pace. It was then that the best football was displayed. For during this period they not only succeeded in holding Law scoreless but in forcing their way down the field. Yet although Commerce were now making fewer fumbles they missed their opportunities of scoring.

The last quarter, although there was no fumbling, was the looest of all. In it there were two long runs, one of thirty, the other of seventy yards. Eveleigh made the first when he ran the ball from centre field to Law's twenty yard line. Then Hutchison catching a kick far behind his own touch-line ran with the ball to the Commerce twenty-five yard mark. Pierce made the third touch-down for Law. He soon followed this up with another which he scored a few minutes before time was up.

Pierce, Ballantyne, Hutchison and Puddicombe were outstanding on the Law team while Eveleigh and Kendall were the pick of Commerce.

OPENINGS FOR C.O.T.C. CERTIFICATE HOLDERS

The great objective of the McGill C. O. T. C. is to train men to act as officers. Each year examinations are held for "A" and "B" candidates. A man holding certificate "A" is qualified to command a platoon, while a man with "B" is able to take charge. It is not generally known that men who gain such certificates can go to military summer camps, or schools of instruction. Men taking advantage of this privilege rank as officers during their stay at camp, being paid from $4.00 to $5.00 a day. Of course, they must revert to their original rank on their return to the corps.

By fulfilling certain conditions, McGill graduates who possess "B" certificate can get commissions in the Imperial Regulars. McGill is the only College in Canada where O. T. C. has this privilege. It is the oldest Corps outside the British Isles.

A Scotchman and another man went into a store and the other man didn't buy anything neither.

SATURDAY'S GAME A DRAWING CARD

Rooters Expected to Turn Out in Force

It is not often that Montreal is given a chance to see how Intercollegiate Rugby compares with that of the Big Four League. This Saturday the McGill squad will play an exhibition game with Hamilton, and it will be interesting to see how the home team measures up against the renowned tigers. The Tigers have made an excellent showing so far this year, and are certain of pulling down at least second place in their league.

The McGill gridmen are not to be despised. They have put up good battles at every game so far this season, and have the reputation of being hard fighters. This Saturday they are expected to live up to their reputation, and can be counted upon to give the Tigers a run for their money. From the spectators standpoint the game ought to be a very interesting one.

There will be the usual Rooters' Parade to the Stadium, where seats will be reserved in the bleachers. Rooters' tickets will be placed on sale this afternoon at the Union between five and 6.30 p.m. at the customary price.

The Rooters' Band will hold a practice on Friday afternoon in preparation for the game. A full attendance is absolutely necessary.

RADIO CLUB TO HEAR MR. CARTMEL LECTURE

Those interested in radio at McGill will have a chance to hear a noted authority on that subject at 5 p.m. this afternoon in the Physics Building when Mr. W. B. Cartmel radio engineer in the Northern Electric Company will speak. The subject of the address will be "The construction and operation of a simple valve receiver." The lecture is intended primarily for beginners, but is sure to prove interesting and instructive for others as well. It will be valuable help to those who are building sets of their own.

Mr. Cartmel is very prominent in radio circles, and is known to many by his articles which appear regularly in the Star.

A large number is expected to take advantage of this opportunity. Any men wishing to join will have a chance to do so at this meeting.

CORRESPONDENCE

The Daily is not responsible for sentiments of letters published in the in the correspondence columns. Signed communications from graduates, undergraduates and members of the faculties will be placed in print if they are not of too great length.

Correspondents are requested to observe the unwritten law of the newspaper office—that they write upon ONE SIDE of the paper ONLY. No communication will be admitted in this column without the name of the writer being attached, not necessarily for PUBLICATION.

The Editors.

The McGill Daily.
Sirs:—A question which has been the subject of much controversy has been brought to the attention of McGill, by your correspondent, Mr. J. Spector, in your columns to-day. Should a Mock Parliament mock, and what should it mock? The answer of course, is obviously, Parliament. Aside from this, there are other things which must be taken into account.

I fortunately was privileged to be present at Mock Parliament Courts and Mock Football Matches conducted under the able direction of Mr. Frank General, and they were truly a pleasure and an education in themselves. I would call Mr. Spector's attention to the type of humour displayed on these occasions. The fact that "the spirit of burlesque-not mere diluted farce" prevailed was the secret of their success. The "diluted farce" which has appeared during the past years, not only in Mock Parliaments, is directly indicative that humour of the calibre of St. Whiffletree is dormant at McGill, if it is, as I doubt, present at all. As it is I fail to see the wit or humour in a debate on the momentous question of the appropriateness of Co-ed's over-shoes.

The consideration of "the affairs of the Nation" has been confined to only too few among the student of McGill. Confined to those who have the oratorical powers to represent their classes in debate, and even these have opportunity to speak about twice a year.

The model on which our Mock Parliament should be based is Parliament itself. Here, where the destinies of the British Empire are controlled, not merely discussed, you will find the speeches on the most momentous subjects are filled with humour, and question time is exceedingly amusing, though not always so to the Ministers of the Crown.

But when all is said and done, what is the necessity of catering to those who wish to be only amused, purely the Gaiety is the place for them. Better far that a hundred men should

BASKETBALL WILL START ON MONDAY

Four Teams Will Carry McGill Colours

COACH VAN WAGNER

Senior Squad to Tour States Soon

Basketball will make its initial start with the beginning of practices this Monday 5.00 p.m. at the Montreal High School gym. These practices will continue on Wednesday and Friday at the same time and place.

All men who play basketball are asked to turn out Monday and the succeeding days.

There will be four teams playing for McGill: Senior A, Intermediate A and B, and the Juniors. Ten men will be selected for each team. A process of elimination will be the method of selecting the players. A squad of twenty-five men will represent the possible candidates for the Senior A, and Intermediate A, teams. A similar squad of candidates will represent the Intermediate B and Junior teams. These latter will practice at Molsen Hall at the same time and days as for the first teams.

The McGill Seniors have been Intercollegiate Champions of Canada for the past two successive years. They also made successful trips to the United States playing New York University of Vermont and St. Francis College of Brooklyn. This year's schedule will embrace a similar list and in addition West Point.

The Intermediate teams A and B entered in the city league. The Juniors are also members of this league. A special regulation regulates the latter to the effect that all players on the said teams must be under twenty years of age previous to January 1, 1924.

Coach Van Wagner will handle the Seniors, while the mentor for the remaining teams will be announced later. The Managers are R. E. Hayes; Intermediates A, K. Muir; Intermediates B and Juniors, R. M. Hamilton.

There will be an excursion to Shawbridge from Nov. 10 to Nov. 12, inclusive.

All who wish to go should hand their names in to the Orderly Room at once. Names cannot be handed in by substitution. Men must give in their own names either in writing or by a personal call.

J. S. G. Shotwell,
Captain and Adjutant.

THE MAGICIAN.

Once I asked an old magician
What the future held for me,
What my happiness would be.
Should I be high politician
Ruling o'er my native land?
Or, perchance, a great musician
Touching strings with magic hand?
Or with wealth, huge fleets controlling.

Heaped high with Eastern treasures,
howling

Over seas,—past coral strand?
At my words the old magician
Gazed within his crystal sphere.

"Only happiness is here!
No great wealth, no high position
Comes to him who'd happy be.
To sound the warning in my mission,
And I pass it on to thee.

Give all that's in your power to give
Love for your fellow man, and live
Happy eternally."

—Dalhousie Gazette.

On the many subjects which are of national and world-wide import there is a thousand should laugh their heads off. It will be a very bad day for McGill, the Greatest University in Canada, and incidentally for Canada if at least that hundred cannot be found.

Sincerely Yours

A. L. Patterson.

VICKERSON LED SECOND TEAM ATTACK

Intermediate Poloists Maintain One Point Lead Against M.A.A.A.

SCORE 3-2

Hard Fought Game Entirely Devoid of Penalties

The McGill Intermediate Water Polo Team defeated the M. A. A. A. Intermediate in the swimming tank last night. There was little to choose between the two teams but the McGill swimmers managed to beat the blue and red players out by the score of 3-2. Vickerson starred for McGill and Charlton for the M. A. A. A.

In the first period, the M. A. A. A. team were the better. They also had the advantage of holding the shallow end and were the first to score. The play was not very fast in this period, as the red and white players did not seem to have struck their stride.

In the second period they improved. Vickerson twice drove the ball into the nets. Then Rogers opened the score for M. A. A. A. The rest of this quarter was exciting and close, both sides striving hard to jump into the lead. But this was not to be and when half time came the score read 2-2.

When M. A. A. A. came out again they rushed the McGill nets. Bethel played a fine game for McGill stopping these shots and clearing his goals from danger. Vickerson once more made a beautiful shot giving McGill the lead. The pace slackened now and there was no more scoring done.

The last quarter saw M. A. A. A. trying hard to tie the score and McGill trying equally hard to stop them from doing so. In this period no score was made and the game went to McGill.

Vickerson was the most noticeable man in the tank, his speed and tenacity being responsible in no small degree for McGill's success.

EDITED BY THE DAILY DRAGON

The "Daily" Dragon is tired this week. He has had a strenuous time, including one Informal, one tea and one lecture. But in spite of all, Quips must be edited. The Dragon's efforts, therefore, were directed towards this end and remarkable latent talent, both in prose and verse, was uncovered. We submit the following to our readers but we would remind them that we have retired to our dug-out and have donned our tin helmet. Let them come.

MOONLIGHT WALTZ

Violins being tuned
Cry out in pain
A sax means once,
And then the lights are dimmed.
Shadows move
And dance fantastic rounds
Born on the wind of music.
The waltz tune
Dolls and dies,
And yearns in passionate ecstasy.
Close-clasped I fly with Phyllis
Through the throng.
Lovely she is, and slender,
And stooping a little
Like willows in wind storms.
But gosh,
Her make-up comes off on my cheek,
I shall not waltz
With Phyllis any more.

WHAT DO WE MEAN BY COLLEGE SPIRIT?

Much of hollabaloo, that seems to have been made about college spirit in the past years is the direct result of a vast amount of misunderstanding of the real significance of that intangible element in university life.

At regular intervals, just as surely as the world revolves about the sun, a great hue and cry arises from certain over-zealous people over the supposed dearth of college spirit.

To complain that such a vital part of college life does not exist is casting reflection upon that institution, and upon the individuals constituting that social body. Those who are so manifestly loyal to their college would do well to penetrate deeper into the real nature of that which they deery.

FEELINGS OF FRESHETTES ARE VARIOUS

"One of Them" Gives Impressions After Month at College

INDIGNITIES SUFFERED

Recompense Comes When Trials of First Year Merge in Soph. Glories

How does it feel to be a Freshette? Now that R. V. C.'s baby class has been invading the sacred precincts of McGill for some weeks, its joint and individual emotions have begun to separate themselves out from the general mass of jumbled impressions. Its main joint impression seems to be that Old McGill is "all right—oh, yes! you bet!" but the individual opinions are rather more varied, and not always so complimentary.

For the Freshette feels that her sense of dignity has been outraged. The pitiful thing about the Freshette is that, just last year, she was a senior at high school, accustomed to respect and awe from her juniors. And now that her dream has been realized, and she finds herself at college, she discovers that she is a "hewer of wood and drawer of water" for her superiors. There is (or she imagines there is) a hostile glare in the eyes of all upper year students. She is perpetually in fear of making a blunder. She must wear a hideous bow of the colour most frequently seen on the seventeenth of March. She must repeat a humiliating yell on request. She must abstain from wearing any Red and White regalia, though doubtless she provided herself with a goodly supply on coming to McGill. She must use no powder and feels herself a veritable "shining light" among the women students. She is bewildered by the many buildings, class-rooms and subdivisions of classes. Time and again, she breaks into classes of forbidding and studious seniors. She marches bravely to the Redpath Library, to be told by a stern-eyed librarian that she must do her reading in the R. V. C. She reads, with horror, a vivid account in the "Daily" of her ignominious tortures at initiation. Truly, the Freshette's cup of woe is full, and it overflows just a little when she learns that R. V. C. '26 were not compelled to wear any identification when they were Freshies.

But there is consolation even for the most tortured Freshette. If the fates be propitious, she will some day be a sophomore, whose basilisk stare will strike terror into the heart of some future Freshie. And so the game goes on. For by some strange process of nature, all those who have crossed the stile of their first year finally forget how it feels to be a Freshette.

POPPIES TO BE SOLD BY R.V.C. UNDERGRADS

Several items of interest came before the R.V.C. Undergraduate Society at a meeting which was held at one o'clock yesterday in the Common Room.

In connection with Poppy Day, Saturday, Nov. 10th, a resolution was adopted to call for volunteers from the various years to assist in tagging at R.V.C., each girl being responsible for half an hour. A list has been posted on the Board where volunteers may sign and specify the hour which would be most convenient for them.

As the Oxford Debaters had expressed their desire of acquiring a McGill pennant in remembrance of their visit to McGill, it was announced that a pennant had been sent to them with the best wishes of the R.V.C. Undergraduate Society.

A letter was read from the M.S.P.E. Undergraduate Society, thanking the R.V.C. Undergraduates for the use of the R.V.C. Common Room and offering the use of the magazines contained on the shelves of Room 11, to the R.V.C. girls.

Miss Murray then spoke to the Society on the worthiness of the Federated Charities Campaign and reminded the collectors that they should phone the Union each evening to specify the results of their collections, and that all money must be turned in by Friday noon.

cessories, 64 of them being needed for the Lachine Development. The steel castings for these guide flanes are made by the Steel Company of Canada at their League Point Works, but the various parts, i. e. vanes, guide vane stems, lever arms, links, bushings, etc., are all machined at the engineering works. In the newer type, a hole is drilled the whole length of the guide vane stem (about 5 ft.) and a Grease Gun is mounted on the top of the stem and the grease forced in under 200 lbs. pressure.

On the other side of the shop the 23" Paper Machine for the Bakus-Brooks Company, at Kenora, was being assembled. Nearly the large steam-heated drying rolls were being steam tested. The large Section Rolls are run on link roller bearings. The Granite rolls are imported roughly shaped from Scotland or else from Vermont, chiefly from the famous Barrie quarries, and are mounted on spindles, turned true, and polished.

At the other end of the shop there is a lot of hydraulic development work to be seen. A Head Cover for a turbine weighing 30 tons, a forged shaft weighing 58,000 lbs. in the rough, and a lot of volute sections of cast steel for the Queenston Development at Niagara. The volute sections are usually molded into the concrete of the bottom of the turbine pit, but because of the immense pressure from the 25 ft. head, steel castings are being used instead, at Queenston.

A 16 ft. valve plunger for a Larner-Johnson Valve also for the Queenston Development, was also under construction. It was very interesting to see a piece of work being machined in the 35 ft. Boring Mill, one of the largest boring mills in America.

From the Machine Shops the party proceeded to the Foundry, to which a 135 ft. extension is now being added. There are three cupolas in the foundry, the largest being an 84" one with a capacity of 20 tons of molten iron per hour. A 40 ton ladle is used in connection with it. Numerous large castings were in the process of being molded or cast.

After visiting the Foundry the party left for home and arrived at Windsor Street about 5.15.

The Executive Committee of the Club had made application to visit the Engine Room Department of the White Star and Dominion Lane S. S. Melita on next Wednesday afternoon. But there are a considerable number of formal details to be completed with, before permission can be granted for a party to visit the engine room, which is strictly debarred from visitors, except under exceptional circumstances. This visit therefore, cannot be arranged, this being the last trip of the S. S. Melita to Montreal for the season. The Company have offered, however, to allow the Club to visit the vessel next September. It will be endeavored to arrange a trip to the Canadian Car and Foundry Company, at Turcot, for Wednesday, Nov. 7th.

Tea will be served at the close of the meeting. A large attendance is expected.

Dorothy: "Yes, I have!"

Maurice: "And what is it, may I ask?"

Dorothy: "I don't believe you."

University people are no longer stu-

THEOLOGICALS FOR ACTIVE SOCIETY

Large Programme to be Drawn up

At yesterday's meeting of the Undergraduate Society at the Theological colleges affiliated with McGill, executive officers were elected and matters of policy for the coming year discussed. The attendance was representative of the four colleges and probably the best in the history of this organization.

The officers for the current year are as follows:

Hon. Pres. Dean D. J. Fraser
Pres. C. Gaskrogers (W)
Vice-Pres. Dale More, (C)
Sec. N. Egerton, (D)
Treas. Duncan Livingstone, (D)

The Congregational, Wesleyan, Presbyterian and Diocesan Colleges were each asked to elect a representative to the executive and also to appoint representatives to form three committees, namely Social, Physical and a committee to represent the theological students at the Student Christian Association.

From expressions voiced yesterday it is evident that the theologs are willing to support an active programme during the winter which will include every man who is studying at one of the four colleges; and also to make the Theological Undergraduate Society an active organization which will be to the theological students of the four colleges what undergrads in the various faculties at McGill are to their respective members.

COMMON SENSE EDUCATION

A suspicion has been growing of late years that it might be just as well to treat university undergraduates as adults instead of as children. The creatures seemed to be getting out of hand, and sops like student self-government and the honor system at examinations and student members on the Faculty Committee on Student Affairs were thrown out from time to time by more than one harassed Alma Mater. But, of course, the cut system and compulsory attendance at classes was the prop on which the academic world rested. It seemed obvious that if a student did not have to come to class he would stay away; if you did not believe it, you could visit the classes yourself and see why. Now Princeton has taken the bold step of permitting the students to decide for themselves if and when they will attend classes. This puts a fearful responsibility on the instructor. Henceforth he must make his classes interesting. At the end of the course he will also have to prepare an examination determining less whether the student has mastered his facts than whether he has any ideas about them, or about anything. Some young gentlemen will never come to class at all, but if they do not and can satisfy the instructor in those two points, Princeton is ready to admit that it is all right. Common-sense sometimes sounds alarmingly revolutionary.

COMMERCE TO HEAR MR. JONES TO-NIGHT

A Director of Many Important Enterprises

This evening at 8 p.m. the Commercial Society will hold its first meeting of the year. Mr. F. P. Jones President and General manager of the Canada Cement Co. will address the society.

Students of the School of Commerce will have the privilege of hearing one of Canada's foremost business men to-night when Mr. F. P. Jones will address the society. Mr. Jones besides being President and General manager of the Canada Cement Co., is a director of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Montreal Trust Co., Ontario Steel Products Ltd., and many others.

The meeting will be open to all undergraduates in the School of Commerce whether they have paid their society fees or not and the seniors wish to impress upon the Freshmen the need of their support and the fact that much difficulty is entailed getting speakers of this calibre to address the Commercial Society. Also that much is to be gained by personal contact with and by hearing men who direct the destinies of the Dominion.

some departments and the decreases in others have already been given, so that it would be wearisome to recapitulate. It might be said, however, that practically all the departments are growing, slowly but surely. The notable drop is that in Science, and the reason for this has been clearly stated to be the large leaving class of 1923.

A total list of the Officers of Instruction was obtained, and although it has undergone some changes since its compilation, it shows the number of teachers to be about 115. This list includes the deans of the faculties, the heads of all departments, professors, assistant professors and associate professors, lecturers, demonstrators and assistants; on it also are found the familiar names of Mr. Frank Shaughnessy, Football and Hockey Coach, and Mr. Van Wagner, Track and Basketball Coach. The list of course varies from year to year, but the total number of instructors is generally about four hundred.

As against the McGill total registration of 2545, the University of Toronto shows a total of 4245, which was incomplete at the time of publication. At any rate, it seems evident that Varsity will have about seventeen hundred more students than McGill when all lists are completed.

The Rhyme of the Ancient Miser

As fumbling with the gold he got,
His blinking eyes he blink;
Then, tumbling in his seat, he sat,
And blackest throbs he think.
Beguiling rools his heart beguile,
Great heaps of chink he chuck;
Full many a sinful smile he smoo,
And many a wink he wunk.
This grasping soul was mean, tho
droll,
His kinky curls were kunk,
His gold in shining piles he pole,
His chains in links were lunk.
And now my troy tale is tol'
And you have that your think,
Just let'er roll in any hole
And call it baby lunk.

A cannibal's motto for strangers,
"First come, first served."
